Hellfighter - Damnation's Wings

Heavy Metal Records

file under heavy / power metal

MoL: 'Damnation's Wings' may be the debut of Hellfighter, we do deal with some veterans here. Hellfighter for the most part exists of former members of English thrash metal band Xentrix, who were mostly active in the nineties.

Unlike Xentrix, Hellfighter is not your typical thrash band. The thrash influences are clearly there, but the heavy metal influences are also eminent. This can be concluded from this phrase by guitarist Kristian Havard: "In some ways we have revisited the bands and sounds that we loved as kids: Bands like Maiden, Priest, Forbidden, Testament, Anthrax, but really we've just made the sort of record that we want to hear today". The combination of thrash and NWOBHM makes 'Damnation Wings' a solid record, which fans of old school metal will definitely dig. Hellfighter brings pounding drums and heavy riffs with excellent vocals and good solos on top. Despite the fact 'Damnation Wings' is an excellent album, there are no true highlights on it. That is a pity, because furthermore there is nothing wrong with this album. But maybe I am asking too much now, because this album holds ten great tracks.

The band is good, especially the drummer. The sound is great, thanks to producer Andy Sneap (Megadeth, Opeth, Testament, Trivium). In short, check it out!
